Task 1: Adding an assignment

Your professor for your IS4300 (Human-Computer Interaction) class just assigned the reading of Chapter 14 to be due on Monday, October 24th, 2013. Please use this website interface to add the assignment to your list of assignments. As you proceed through this task, please talk through your thought process and feel free to ask the facilitator any questions as they arise.

Task 2: Updating an assignment

Your professor for your IS4300 class just realized that the reading may take longer than he expected, so he postponed it to be due on Thursday, October 31st, 2013. Please use this website interface to update the assignment's due date. As you proceed through this task, please talk through your thought process and feel free to ask the facilitator any questions as they arise.

Task 3: Completing an assignment

You just finished reading Chapter 14 for IS4300. Please use the web interface to mark the assignment as complete. As you proceed through this task, please talk through your thought process and feel free to ask the facilitator any questions as they arise.

Task 4: Deleting an assignment

You decided that you do not want the website to keep track of old completed tasks, so you would like to delete the assignment for the Chapter 14 reading in the web interface. As you proceed through this task, please talk through your thought process and feel free to ask the facilitator any questions as they arise.
